

The protection and welfare of students is of paramount importance. Everyone plays a key role in ensuring the welfare of the students in this academy. You are often the first person to notice that something is wrong, eg., changes in behaviour patterns, erratic attendance, signs of possible neglect.

If a student begins to open up to you, always remind them that any concerns may need to be shared and that you cannot promise confidentiality. If you have any concern, no matter how small, please share it with the designated staff for Child Protection and Safeguarding. Record your concern on CPOMs; hard copies of the Child Protection/welfare incident form are kept in reception.
